Pink Love

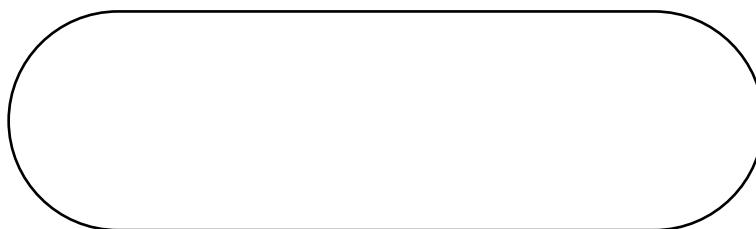

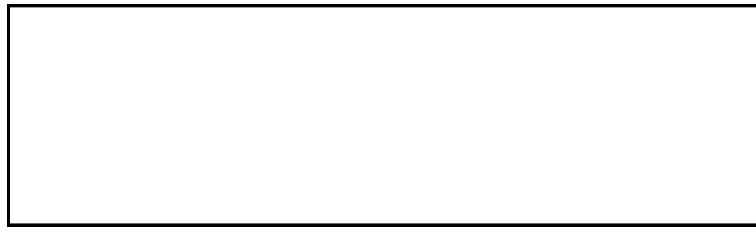

Blonde Redhead

just the song I happened to be listening to at the time

Some say you are, you are, you are
Just like a butterfly
Whose broken wings will spread
To softly feel your mood
Over the blue, blue sky full of you
Pink love, pink love, pink love
Just like a fairytale

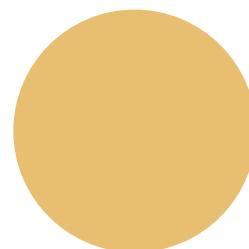

My only reason naturally
Starts to get to me
Pushing my way through
Mesh of life
I want to kiss the sickness of mind
My heart without reason
Sunken to deep disappointment
Spreads over universe
With a knife
I want to bleed out distress like this
It's not just a fairytale
It's painted by me
It's not just a loneliness between you and I
If on magic mountain, you find you can breathe
Then stay and don't look back
To the blue woven sky
